Who is Olympic View Community Church?

Olympic View Community Church is part of the Church of the Brethren (CoB), an Anabaptist denomination that, alongside Quakers and Mennonites, are recognized as Historic Peace Churches in the United States. We opened the doors of our church in 1948 in the north Seattle neighborhood, where we served that community until we sold the building in 2024 to a large congregation that had worshiped in our building for many years. We are in the process of settling into our new location that better suits our smaller congregation. Our story has been publicized in a CoB publication, Messenger, and can be found in this link <http://www.brethren.org/messenger/reflections/always-moving-forward/>.

We are excited to complete construction of our new location (11049 8th Ave NE, Seattle WA) on the Northaven campus which is a community of 400 residents in assisted living, low-income senior and workforce housing that includes a multi-ethnic early learning childcare center. Northaven Senior Living was initially built by Olympic View Community Church in 1970 in partnership with HUD. We worship in their community room until renovations are completed on our building.
